

BIGGEST SOURCE OF INCOME FOR CITY IS WATER DEPARTMENT

Whenever the city gets its water shut off, then the city goes broke. That is indicated in the annual report of Mrs. Snow Thornehill, head of the city water department office, which has been filed with the city secretary.

It shows that for the 12-month period closing March 31, the water department had a revenue of $138,119.27.

Revenue paid into the department during the past year was divided as follows:

TWO SURGES, AND A THIRD, THAT MAY CHANGE THE WORLD*

Menace of Communism and Fascism Offset by Influence of Revived Christianity -- The Power That Resides in the Easter Message -- The Kingdom of God Conception of Life On Earth

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS and EARL L. DOUGLAS

Two surges of human sentiment are being experienced throughout the world today. One is loosely called Communism and the other is loosely called Fascism. Between and behind and above them, and ultimately transcending them, is the Way, as Jesus designated discipleship. It is a Way landmarked by His teachings, His conduct, His death and His resurrection.

Societies perish from spiritual diseases. America has the tragic experience of a score of devastated civilizations to warn her. All the best that men really see in Communism and Fascism is religion. In the Christian Way, our surest, sanest method of escape from the perils that beset us in the two prevailing philosophies of government lies in a third surge of human sentiment—a passion of discipleship to the risen Christ. If all Christians were to become really aroused to the practical living of Easter, they would sweep the globe with changed lives.

The Possible Surge
A simple, comprehensive statement of discipleship is found in the first sentence of the Christian Endeavor pledge: "Trusting in the Lord Jesus Christ for strength, I promise Him that I will strive to do whatever He would like to have me do."

If enough persons would hug that pledge to their hearts, as a guiding life motive, there would ensue a surge of good will and brotherhood and human ministry that would be of tidal wave proportions; and the Great Change would come to pass. The United Nations would then become the functioning Kingdom of Heaven on earth.

Does this seem fanciful? Is it too much to hope that the Easter truth may be fulfilled in our time? Yet hard-headed scientists predict the opposite—the complete destruction of civilization by the atomic bomb. It is an easier task (considering the resources of Christianity) to prepare for a surge of righteousness and peace than to prepare a defense against sure doom. Shall we be ruled by Easter Day or by Judgment Day?

The Easter Message
It seemed incredible to the disciples of Jesus that He should arise from the dead, though He had often predicted exactly this. At every one of His resurrection appearances He was at first unrecognized. There was some difference between His earthly body and His glorified body. His personality remained the same, but His Resurrection Body could appear and disappear at will; pass through locked doors and disregard distances. He was the same Jesus, yet possessed of new powers.

In a way not easy to understand, the horrors of the Cross, to reconcile a holy God with a sinful man, the supreme transaction of the ages had been consummated. Now, by rising from the sealed tomb, Jesus had proved Himself Lord of life and death. The victim of man's sin had become the Victor through God's immeasurable and unconquerable love.

The Imparted Life
So it was a new message of life that emerged from the carefully guarded tomb in Joseph of Arimathea's garden. That message is surging over the world today, as mankind's only hope. "If ye then be risen with Christ, seek those things which are above." "He died for all, that they who live should no longer live unto themselves, but unto Him who loved them and gave Himself for them."

I heard a preacher say recently, in treating the new power which God promises to all who will accept it. "It is as if God said to every individual, 'You give me your life, and I'll give you Mine.' Out of the Resurrection came the gift of imparted power. 'Greater works' were to be done by disciples. Paul cried, 'I have been crucified with Christ; yet nevertheless I live . . . Christ liveth in me.'"

That is why we dare proclaim the possibility of a new and overwhelming surge of world-wide new life in the Jesus Way. God does impart power to those who would live after the pattern and in the spirit of His Son. Easter marks the day of victory.

The Awakened Church
I have resided in Jerusalem throughout the Easter season, when thousands of Christian pilgrims from all the world thronged the streets. Alas, there are no visitors to the Easter shrine this year, except soldiers and local residents. Those who care for such things will be depressed by the news—reported as final by Time—that the archaeologists have ended the long dispute over the authenticity of the site of the Church of the Holy Sepulchre by deciding that is within the ancient wall; whereas the Bible says that Jesus was crucified without the wall. There is such a concentration of superstition and ecclesiastical rivalry in this dusty old church that I, and many others, fail to find the spirit of Resurrection in it.

There is another site, not validated by the scholars, called the Garden Tomb, owned by Protestants, which in its unadorned simplicity and its ancient tomb is certainly a spot to quicken devotion. But of all sites we assuredly say, "He is not here; He is risen." No tomb could contain Him; and today He is in the hearts of uncounted millions of disciples, eager to express His life as the final Power of a resurgent and resurrected world.

SEVEN SENTENCE SERMONS
Difficulties are things that show what men are. —Epictetus.

Guard well thy thoughts; our thoughts are heard in heaven. —Young.

Righteousness exalteth a nation; But sin is a reproach to any people. —Proverbs 14:34.

To him who is in fear everything rustles. —Sophocles.

Now is Christ risen from the dead, and become the first fruits of them that slept. —Corinthians 1:15-20.

Love eternal, light eternal, Close me gently, sweetly in; Saviour, let Thy balm of healing Ever keep me free from sin. —Best.

A lazy, indolent church tends toward unbelief; an earnest, busy church, in hand-to-hand conflict with sin and misery, grows stronger in faith. —Hall.

The Sunday School Lesson for April 6 is, "The Risen Lord and His Disciples"—John 19:38-47; 20:1-21.

LOCAL TAILOR WAS NAMED DIRECTOR OF NEGRO UNIVERSITY

Ben Morgan, negro tailor with a shop on Beaton street, was leaning against a parking meter opposite his place of business Tuesday morning when he learned that Gov. Beauford H. Jester had appointed him a member of the board of directors of the newly created Texas State University for Negroes.

"Let's go to the shop," he said, "where we can talk business." Morgan, a life-long friend of the Texas governor, was one of four negroes named to the board. They will serve with five white men, also appointed by Gov. Jester. The white men are Major T. Bell of Beaumont, J. K. Brim of Sulphur Springs, Craig Sullivan of Houston, Charles Deval of Kilgore, Dr. J. N. R. Score of Georgetown.

Negroes on Board.
The negroes, in addition to Morgan, are Principal Emeritus W. R. Banks of Prairie View University for Negroes, Dr. M. L. Edwards of Jarvis College, Hawkins, and Rev. I. B. Loud of San Antonio.

Morgan, who operates his tailor shop in the rear of the B. and B. barber shop, 308 North Beaton street, informed his wife, who was working on a pair of pants, that "the governor's honored me."

The tailor, who had little opportunity for education himself, nevertheless saw in it that his three children received all they could.

One of his daughters is a teacher in the Jackson High school here, another teaches at Morris-Brown College, in Atlanta, and a son, who majored in chemistry, is in business in Philadelphia.

Civic Leader.
He has been prominent in civic affairs, and has served on the jury commission. For Jester's inauguration, Morgan scooped at plans for an all-negro motorcade to Austin and routed it by selling 47 tickets for a coach on the Lions Club special train.

He is 60 years old, and in his youth was an older boy who took Jester hunting.

"It's sure a great honor," he said, "I sure appreciate it, and that's a fact."

Mrs. Joe Bell, Jr., has gone to Pueblo, Colo., to visit in the home of her sister, Mrs. Bill Jump, and family.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the cramp-like aches and pains of functional periodic pain. It may help relieve these pains. Here's how:

1. Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion, thus help build resistance for the "blues" to come.
2. Started 3 days before "your time," it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes.

Try Cardui. If it helps, you'll be glad you did.

BUNNY PARTY FOR SMALL FRY

EASTER BUNNIES

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS
Associated Press Food Editor.
To small fry, Easter means bunnies, so when you plan a young Easter party, make the bunny the keynote. Start out with soft drinks—which make a party for youngsters—and turn the bottles into rabbits by making simple cut-outs. Use white cardboard for the heads and bodies of the bunnies, folding the paper to cut, as

Have a small fancy paper cup of mayonnaise for each guest to dunk his vegetables in. Chinese Easter Nests serve as the one indispensable hot dish and hot cross buns go for bread and cake both.

Chinese Easter Nests.
8 eggs, 4 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1 1/2 cups sliced mushrooms, 1 cup sliced onions, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon celery salt, 1/8 teaspoon pepper, 1 cup chicken broth, 2 cups drained canned bean sprouts, 2 tablespoons cornstarch, 1/2 cup cold water, 2 cups Chinese-type noodles.

Place eggs (in the shell) in a saucepan; cover with cold water and bring to the boil. Remove from heat, cover pan, and allow to stand.

Melt butter or margarine in skillet. Add mushrooms and onions; saute lightly for five minutes. Sprinkle with seasoning, add chicken broth; cover and cook for five minutes.

Place noodles on individual plates in center and place two stuffed egg halves in the middle.

Hot Cross Buns.
1/2 cup sugar, 3 tablespoons melted butter or margarine, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 cup milk scalded, 1 yeast cake, 1/4 cup warm water, 2 eggs, 3 cups sifted flour, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/4 teaspoon allspice, 1/2 cup seedless raisins, 1 dozen marshmallows, 1/4 cup confectioners sugar.

Stir sugar, butter and salt into milk. Soften yeast cake in warm water. When milk mixture has cooled to lukewarm, add the yeast and one well beaten egg. Sift together the flour and spices, add with raisins to liquid and mix well. Cover and allow to rise in a warm place until double in bulk. Shape into two-inch balls and place in a well-greased baking pan. Beat remaining egg lightly and brush over tops of

The Mighty Pen.

My pen, than I, has greater might
By quite a lot,
For under water it can write,
But I cannot.

Incentive.

The best incentive that I know
Is neither bonus nor commission,
But something every boy should know—
And that's ambition.

Customer Opinion.

The man who owns the store depends
On all he hires to be his friends,
Because of every error made
On him alone the blame is laid.

Important.

Though trivial may seem to be
The service which of you they ask,
My boy, don't shirk. In all life's work
There is no unimportant task.

TAX THOUGHTS

Great piles of papers are accumulating in the offices of the Internal Revenue Bureau in Washington. They are the reports from 55 million Americans who have filed income tax returns. Officials are quoted as saying the total taxes will reach about 17 billion.

Some of these people will get money back with interest. The bureau says five out of every six taxpayers will get some refund. Since the government pays six per cent interest on such repayments, this is as good an investment as one can get these days.

There are many, many work hours in those piles of papers in the Revenue Bureau. They represent ardent labor on the part of men women who filled them out, more work for revenue clerks. But if there are going to be some refunds, and at six per cent, that's pleasant to think about, even if the sums won't be so very large.

USEFUL ATOMIC POWER

After interviewing scientists and leaders in atomic research, Robert B. Colborn, writing in Business Week, has this to say:

"Today, no prudent business man, no prudent engineer, dares make plans or decisions reaching more than about five years in the future without at least weighing the possibility that the basis of his planning may be altered or upset by the commercialization of discoveries about the atom."

The advantages of the uses of atomic power are its flexibility, the plentiful supply of fuel for the atomic piles, and the fact that the power plants may be set up in the most inaccessible spots, thus eliminating some transportation problems.

Assuming that commercial production of electric power from atomic engines is only about five years away, the thoughtful reader may well reconsider his own theories about the changed world before him.

The development of the atomic bomb begins to look like a mere incident, a small byproduct of the evolution of atomic energy for human well-being.

All that most of our political leaders at Washington seem to need is a little thing called statesmanship.

An expert says there's no danger of food inflation, so you may go right on eating.

EMPLOYMENT PICTURE

BRIGHTER WITH MORE
JOBS NOW AVAILABLE

CURRENT PROSPECTS INDICATE FURTHER INROADS ON UNEMPLOYMENT

March brought a bright spot to the Corsicana and Navarro County labor picture, as for the first time since October, 1946 employment took an upward trend, according to W. B. Reedy, manager of the Corsicana office of Texas State Employment Service.

Current prospects, Reedy said, indicate that further inroads on unemployment will be made during the next two or three months.

The March upward swing was welcome at the office as in January and February some 500 additional individuals found themselves jobless through layoffs, shutdowns and seasonal reductions.

Improvement Shown
"March brought about a much greater improvement in the local labor situation than has been observed since the downward trend started in November of last fall," Reedy said.

During March 246 persons, including 107 World War II veterans, made application for work through the employment office, while a total of 337 applicants for unemployment benefits and readjustment allowances suspended employment or leaving the local area.

"Of the 337 total 181 were veterans of World War II, thus leaving a net reduction in veterans claimant of 84 for the month," the manager said.

Forty-four veterans were placed in employment by the office during the month.

Many Jobs Necessary
Although there was some overall improvement, many jobs will be necessary to absorb the surplus remaining March 31 when an active file count revealed 1,500 individuals still have registrations for work.

"Many of this number, however, are from the rural areas, and will perhaps be absorbed by agricultural employment during the next few weeks," Reedy said.

Reedy said that 992 World War II veterans had active applications filed, while 612 were claimants for readjustment allowances.

"Building and construction trades provided the most jobs during the month, and still further gains are expected as materials and weather will permit. Road construction projects through the county have provided a minimum of activity during the past three months due to weather conditions, but are expected to show a decided increase in employment within the next few weeks as those contracts already approved get underway," Reedy declared.

"Shortages of certain skills in the building trades, as well as some skills in manufacturing and processing continue to be a fact, and these shortages are expected to continue as long as these trades hold their present momentum."

High Cost of Living
Reedy hit a grim note in comparing the cost of living with low incomes.

"Unskilled workers in the low income group are hardest hit by the rising cost of living, and many of them are being followed in many instances, and some firms have found long-sought skills right in their own organization, the possessors of which had been hired to fill a vacancy rather than matching a job with a skill."

Buddle Harris has arrived from Houston to spend the Easter holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lavender.

Influenza Is Fatal For Ennis Resident
Mrs. Frank Moseley, aged 63 years, long-time resident of the Ennis community, died Sunday following a short illness with influenza. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Moseley, formerly Violet Fay Ransom, was born in Chatfield, Navarro county. Surviving are her husband, a son, two grandchildren, two sisters and a brother.

GROWING PAIN

The Buffalo teachers' strike may not stand alone. In Derry Township near Lewistown, Pa., the teachers threaten to walk out on May 5 unless they get a $300 raise. The school board replies that they haven't the money.

Maybe they had better get it, or the opening of school in the fall might find no one willing to teach for what the community thinks it fair to offer. A lot of classrooms are vacant in the United States now. Buildings might follow. California, which is offering good salaries, has drawn many teachers from Ohio, which is not doing so well. Even if teachers are forbidden to strike, no law compels them to sign a contract if the pay is poor.

Senator Irving M. Ives of New York, himself a former teacher, recently warned of the necessity of spending more money on the schools, saying "To raise that money will hurt. It may hurt very much, and in the process we may have to go without some of the things we now enjoy."

Mississippi, which is not a wealthy state, has just voted $5,000,000 extra for schools. This will increase pay $270 in the richer counties, and $540 in the poorer. Doubtless it hurts, but Mississippi is wise enough to know that it is necessary.

COLLEGE COSTS

Vassar College, "caught in the dilemma of rising costs and a fixed income finds it increasingly difficult to maintain its high educational standards on its present budget." So wrote President Sarah Gibson Blanding the other day to the parents of its students. Fees, beginning next September, will be raised from $1,359 to $1,600 for tuition, room and board. The cause is "higher salaries for faculty, higher wages for help, higher prices for food, coal and other housekeeping, operating and educational supplies." The letter adds that expenses have increased 40 per cent during the last six months, while fees, starting at $1,200, and going to $1,600, have been increased only 33 and one-third per cent.

Running a college, nowadays, running a home, a business or a factory compels dealing with higher costs. Let no one suggest that the spiral of rising living costs has stopped its climb. Not only colleges are "caught in the dilemma of fixed income and rising costs." A great group of the nation's citizens are similarly bewildered, not to mention the parents who received the Vassar letter.

TEEN TALK

Dear Judy,

How do you feel about the "little people"? The kids here are all excited about leprechauns. It all started with the play "Finian's Rainbow" in which there is leprechaun prancing around the stage. Now the kids are wearing leprechauns on their lapels. And the little kids have little leprechauns which they can bounce on an elastic string.

Leprechauns are supposed to be good luck and here is the version of one ancient Irishman: The little people are really little fairies who are still Irish shoe-makers. But, unlike other shoe-makers, the leprechauns will mend only the left shoe believing people should stand on their own two feet. Leprechauns like people, but they don't like other leprechauns and they don't like to be stared at. They will give you anything you ask for if you look them straight in the eye but they definitely do not like to be ogled.

So now the kids go around madly staring into each other's eyes to see who can stare the longest. The one who wins is a good leprechaun and the one who gives up is a right-footed leprechaun. The only way you can hex the storer, say the kids, is to rub the little leprechaun lapel pin in front of their eyes.

By the way, did you know that Woody Herman was giving up his band to be a singer? I've always wanted to be a singer and I've finally decided to give up my successful band to do it. Tell the kids if they have hopes they should stick to 'em if it takes years. Eventually ambition will pay off. But it takes persistence and courage to give up a good paying proposition for something brand new.

Ten high school kids who were among the 3,500 attending a three-day convention of the Columbia School Press Association in New York, became reporters for a day and interviewed New York's District Attorney Hogan. The kids from Malden, Mass., Washington, Conn., and Bayonne, N. Y., really put the DA to work answering questions. And don't think the experience won't help 'em if they ever become real reporters.

OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES

Look who's talking! And this time it's not we tire dealers.

Since two months after V-J Day we've been telling the world about our new postwar B.F. Goodrich Silvertown tire ... the tire that OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES.

We told how this new tire has proved its worth in millions of test miles on police cars, taxi fleets and special test cars. We told about the broader, flatter tread that covered more road surface, gave thousands of extra miles of service and better skid resistance. We told about the 35% stronger cord body with more and sturdier cords.

We told all this ... and now the public's telling us in letters how right we were.

If your car needs new tires, come in today ... you'll want this longer mileage Silvertown on every wheel. It's best in the long run.

Meat Workers, Plant Agree New Contract

FORT WORTH, April 3.—(AP)—United Packinghouse Workers of America have negotiated a union contract with the Hy-Grade Food Products Corporation of Vernon, A. J. Pittman, district director of the union, said today.

Pittman said that about 100 employees of the Vernon plant will receive wage increases ranging from 16 cents to 37 cents an hour. The agreement also provides, he said, that workers will receive a general increase of four cents an hour in three months and that an additional hike in wages will be made in six months to bring the Vernon scale up to the level in Fort Worth.

The union director said the minimum wage for packinghouse workers in Fort Worth is 80-1-2 cents an hour for women and 91-2-2 for men.

WHAT EASTER SYMBOLS MEAN

EASTER CARDS FOR 1947... You may take your choice of all the traditions.

By VIVIAN BROWN

AP Newsfeature Writer.

Americans love tradition. So at Easter all the old familiar symbols—rooster, bunny, daffodils, lilies and colored eggs—are made a part of the Easter day.

Masses flock to church in commemoration of Easter, and crosses are bedecked with flowers. New clothes are worn, and hardly a child or a grownup would be seen at church on Easter morn without some new garb. Greeting cards are sent depicting all these traditional scenes.

But the idea of dressing up for Easter was not a brain wave of some modern clothing manufacturer.

The custom originated in an ancient desire to spruce up at the period when all nature blooms with new life. In the fourth century the Romans found in the Easter festivities an excellent excuse to appear richly dressed. The Chinese and the North American Indians used to cast off their old apparel at the New Year (corresponding to Easter).

It is believed the custom of staining and decorating eggs started in Persia. Early travelers reported that Greeks made presents of colored eggs and bread. When the custom was taken over by the Christians the eggs were decorated principally in red, to denote the blood of Christ.

The rooster is supposed to be a symbol of re-awakening and in ancient times was associated with Easter just as the rabbit and chicken are today.

Flowers have always been part of the Easter picture. During medieval times, lilies were supposed to have symbolized the Resurrection. The Judean legend associated lilies with Easter because, according to the legend, wherever the Risen Saviour walked, white lilies sprang up from the soil and blossomed in His footsteps. The daffodil is associated with Easter because its bell-like blossom was thought to resemble a trumpet announcing the victory of life over death.

There are many legends about the Easter rabbit. Did you know that the rabbit was originally thought to be a bird and that Eostre, the pagan goddess from whose name is derived the word Easter, transformed it into an animal? That was the belief in Southern Germany where they believed that rabbits laid Easter eggs on their festival in grateful recollection of their former quality as birds and swift messengers of Eostre.

Two Hurt As Plane Hits Trolley Wires

DALLAS, April 3.—(AP)—Two persons were injured last night when their Cessna plane crashed landed after striking electric wires over the interurban tracks in northeast Dallas.

Richard E. Manning and Miss Velma Potts, both of Dallas, were taken to Fairland Hospital with cuts and bruises.

The wires were severed and electric service in the northeast section of the city was interrupted for about an hour. The plane was not greatly damaged.

HAL BOYLE'S COLUMN

OCRACOKE, N. C., April 3.—(AP)—Ocracoke Island, a 16-mile long curve of sand some 19 miles off the North Carolina mainland, is a "Poor Man's Bermuda" where wild ponies dig their own wells and a woman once lived to be 117 years old.

It is a timeless isle where money means little and a man has to think hard to find anything to worry about. There are really only three things to do here—fish, hunt ducks and geese or just sit and listen to an everlasting wind push the sea against the sand with a muffled "flap flap flap."

Some wealthy people spend a lot of travel money just to come here to do these things—which the island's population of 700 enjoys free.

Once Pirate Hangout.
The world washed by Ocracoke during the War Between the States. Before that it had been a notorious pirate hangout, a focal point of operation for shore wreckers—some of whom made a business of luring ships into reefs, and an important port of entry.

Now it is a peaceful, bypassed fishing village. You don't have to buy a state automobile license because there is only one small concrete road, built by the navy. But it doesn't go anywhere.

There are no police and no jails. The island was peopled by pirates and shipwrecked sailors, but there hasn't been a murder for more than one hundred years.

No Problems There.
There is no housing shortage on Ocracoke, no doctor, no street cars, no saloons or drug stores, no race problems.

The negro family on the island has been there for three generations. Its members attend the white church and school and are well liked.

There is a legend that the Pirate Blackbeard named the island. To elude pursuers, he is reported to have exclaimed impatiently, "Oh, crew, crew!" earlier sea charts, however, listed the island as Ocracoke—so the story is plain tourist Ocracoke and bull, so to speak.

Unique Problem Of Starlings Who "So On" Up To Solons

By ARTHUR EDSON
WASHINGTON, April 3.—(AP)—Don't be surprised if your congressman looks worried. He may be fretting over such problems as: Should people be allowed to shoot starlings?
All right, laugh. But it's no laughing matter to (A) Washington residents, or (B) congress.
For one of congress' chores is to play city council for Washington. And so the house district committee held a hearing yesterday on a major Washington problem, the starling.

Right On Sidewalks
This busybody, medium sized bird spends the day in the country. But at night he and sev. al million of his pals flock into the middle of town to roost, and so on. Especially so on. Right on the busiest sidewalks, too.

"Starlings are a definite nuisance," said William A. Xanten, delicately.

Speaking for the District Commissioners Xanten said they had tried to gas and poison starlings. They also had tried to scare them away with balloons and Roman candles.

The starlings thrive on it. Shooting Is Requested

And so the commissioners decided to congress to allow them to shoot the rascals. Here the problem begins.

Up jumped Fred Packard, field executive of the National Parks Association.

Packard said he is no starling lover. But he thinks people living guns would be a definite threat to other people and to other birds.

"Theoretical experts with guns," he said, "are a hazard."

Dr. Paul Barish of the Smithsonian Institution also opposed starling shooting. His idea: Throw nets over them, so that non-starlings could be spared.

Warehouse Entered, Merchandise Stolen

Burglars some time Wednesday night broke into Marks Bros' warehouse at the rear of the store at 210 North Beaton St. and took merchandise valued at $150.

A lock was broken on the door of the tile storage unit, located on an alley at the rear of the store.

Store officials said bedspreads and robes were missing, and it was believed this was all the merchandise taken.

TEXAS TODAY

By JACK RUTLEDGE
Associated Press Staff

Get your fishing box. Pick out your favorite plug, the one you've had the most luck with, and take a good look at it. It probably was made in Texas.

A fast growing Texas industry has followed in the wake of increased interest in fishing—the manufacture of plugs, lures, flies and various types of artificial baits.

A gentleman in San Antonio makes such attractive flies that some women fishermen wear them as ornaments on their dresses. Over in Uvalde, Art Sansom and Hub Eoff have developed an artificial lure they call the "Wonder Bug," made of cellophane, colored nail polish and odd lengths of wire. In Sherman, a man makes what he calls the "Whopper Stopper."

"Bomber Bait" Company. But the largest factory we've seen is the Bomber Bait company in Gainesville, owned and operated by Ike Walker, John W. Parker and C. S. Turbeville.

They have applied for a patent for both design and name—"The Bomber"—but in the meantime produce over 1,000 Bombers a day and are 400 dozen behind in orders. The original design was whittled out by Ralph Wham three and a half years ago. It has been changed and improved upon (Parker, one of the owners, is a science teacher at the high school) but it's still a lot like Wham's old Bomber.

It was designed to get depth, and to wiggle under water while being retrieved. Fishermen will realize the value of it at a time when the "Wiggie Like Hell."

Parker says the Bomber will go down as much as six feet, "down where the fish are," and while being reeled in, will remain at that depth and "wiggle like hell."

They make it in one basic design, but in three sizes and 17 colors. Each individual lure requires about 20 hand operations before it's ready for sale, and has about eight different bits of wood and metal attached.

New machinery has been invented in Gainesville to speed up the process of manufacture. But it's still mostly hand work, like the eyes, which are two colors—yellow, with a black iris. They're made or painted on with a common nail.

A worker dips the head into the yellow ink, applies to the lure, then dips the other end into black ink and dabs it in the center of the yellow.

Made of Cedar. The body of the bomber is made of cedar. It's a special type and Parker won't tell where he gets it. The paint used has been tested and won't crack. It has triple hooks.

This may seem like an advertising plug, but it's not. It's just a report on a plug that, Parker says, will catch fish when others won't, because it goes down deep, it wiggles, and it floats.

He admits that most of the ideas fishermen have about pet plugs are just plain superstition, but that when it comes to the Bomber, it delivers.

There must be some truth to his claim, because sales of this unadorned, unpromoted artificial bait have extended into Kansas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Louisiana, Missouri, Tennessee, New Mexico, Arizona and, of course, all over Texas.

PLAN ORGANIZATION OF KNIFE AND FORK CLUB IN CORSICANA

Letters inviting Corsicans to become charter members of the Knife and Fork club, now in process of organization here, are in the mails, according to announcement by E. M. Avery, extension director of the international organization.

"Membership is by invitation and must be limited to comfortable dining facilities," Avery said. "Invitations are being sent to a large number. Acceptees will be enrolled in the order received. In event your application is received after the limit is reached, your check will be returned to you and your name placed on the waiting list. Ninety percent of all clubs have such a list," Avery pointed out.

"The organization does not impose duties upon its members—instead it provides a very delightful diversion for the members during the club years," Avery explained.

"This is not a civic organization but a lecture dinner club whose affiliation with the national organization will bring to Corsicans some of the world's best speakers to be selected by the club management," Avery said. Dues pay the speakers and all operating expenses of the club.

The charter organization committee announced by Avery include:

JIMMY PILLOWS WITH 20 POINTS IS HIGH POINT MAN OF MEET

MILDRED EAGLE ATHLETES COME IN WITH 2ND PLACE HONORS MONDAY

By A. T. CANANT
Sun Sports Staff
State Home Lads walked off with the Intercollegiate League District 4-B track and field meet Monday afternoon at Garfield Field, track, piling up 10 1-2 points to 41 1-2 for Mildred, their nearest rival.

The Lads' team took first place in the senior high, junior high and ward school competition. Second place in the junior high events went to Barry, and the second place in the ward school events went to the Emhouse team.

Individual honors in the senior events went to Jimmy Pillows of the Lads, who piled up 20 points by taking first place in four events: the 100 and 220 dashes, pole vault and broad jump.

District Records
Coach John Corbett and mentor and director of the track and field events in the district meet Monday said that the marks set Monday in all events would stand as district records. In the absence of recorded marks in the events in the past, Corbett said that the marks would be set down from now on, so that competitors will have a goal to shoot at, as well as an opponent.

In piling up their winning margin, the Lads dropped only one first place in the senior division. Corky Neyman of Mildred came in first in the 200 low hurdles ahead of Carrington and Carpenter of the Lads. Neyman's time was 25.8 for the distance.

Among the highlights of Monday's meet were several times that will be hard to beat in the years to come. Bill Phillips' 2:15.4 in the 880 is a mark that will be stiff competition in Class B circles, and Pillows' 20 foot, 1 1-2 inch leap in the broad jump is a good goal for many a wide jumper.

Lads' 104 1-2 points for the State Home was made up of 13 first places in the senior events, 4 first places in the Junior high events and three first places in ward school events.

The Lads' winning margin was high, but two last-minute injuries to their squad kept the total from going higher. Marvin Rawls, shot put artist and discus man, competed with a pulled muscle in his

Freestone Game Preserve Likely

FAIRFIELD, April 1.—(Sp.)—Forty land owners and visitors from over the county met at a luncheon at the Tower Cafe in Fairfield Tuesday night to discuss plans for a game preserve that will cover the entire north and east part of Freestone county.

Howard D. Dodgeon of the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission, principal speaker for the evening, discussed the set-up of a game preserve and said that after traveling over the proposed site, found it ideal for stocking with deer, but that a lot of work would be necessary before it was suitable for wild turkey.

Mr. Dodgeon pointed out that the commission would send in field men to look over the area and decide the best places to release the deer after the preserve has been established, and a game warden would be located here to help take care of the game and supervise the deer. It was necessary, but due to the fact that there are more calls for deer than the commission can supply at present it will be a year before Freestone county can be supplied with 200 to 300 deer for stocking purposes.

After a general discussion, a motion was carried by those present to request Mr. McGraw to get a law passed closing Freestone county on deer and turkey for a period of six years.

Mr. Hanning, county agent reported that so far $90,000 acres had been signed up for the preserve, and that it would probably reach 100,000 acres.

arm, and Curtis Jones, Lad dash man, was out with a leg injury. Both will be back in shape for the area meet, Corbett said.

The Lads' plan to schedule a practice meet this week with Ennis, and following that, will go to the area meet, which is to be held in Fort Worth on April 12.

Presbyterian Auxiliary Meeting At Fairfield
FAIRFIELD, April 1.—(Sp.)—The auxiliary of the Fairfield Presbyterian church met at the church March 24. The meeting was opened by singing "Onward Christian Soldiers" with a prayer by Mrs. Attie Bonner. The secretary of all causes made their reports. New officers were installed by the president, Mrs. Roy Reese.

President, Mrs. Ruby Utley; spiritual life, Mrs. W. W. Steward, Sr.; S. and P. Mrs. Everett Whitley; literature, Mrs. E. B. Peyton; his- tory, Mrs. L. E. Bonner. After installation services, the new president, Mrs. Ruby Utley, made a short talk and the meeting was closed with a prayer by Mrs. Ora Tate.

TAXI FRANCHISE UP FOR DISCUSSION AT COMMISSION MEETING

S. A. RUDD OF CHARTER COACHES, FT. WORTH, MAKES APPLICATION

Bus and taxi company franchise, which expired Tuesday, were tackled at the regular meeting of the city commission, with Mayor-Elect Hubert T. Braselton sitting in.

That a taxi light loomed was indicated as the City Cab Co., holder of the dying franchise, made no application for a new one, while a Franchise tax concern boosted the franchise tax rate and made other offers for the business.

S. A. Rudd of Charter Coaches, Fort Worth, is a letter to the commission, said he would raise the wages of drivers, giving them 40 cents of each dollar, would furnish new equipment, and put drivers in uniform.

Fred D. Prince, police and fire commissioner, told the commission that he had called him to add that he would pay the city 3 percent of his gross receipts for the business.

He sought the franchise two years ago, offering a $3,400 bonus. The City Cab Co. is in litigation with the city, seeking refund of gross receipt taxes previously paid.

Final action on renewal of the two-year franchise with the City Cab Co. will be taken at the next meeting of the commission, which is set for April 12.

Territo pays $50 per year per bus, and has four in operation. There was some discussion of altering the terms whereby he would pay a gross receipt tax instead, inasmuch as fares have been boosted from 5 to 7 cents.

Appointment of a city engineer was delayed when Mayor John C. Calhoun, retiring, said he preferred Braselton make the selection. J. M. McKie, Jr., Marine Corps aviator, was just being discharged from the hospital.

Mayor Calhoun appointed J. Preston Welch as city secretary, P. Travis Fullwood as city engineer, and J. M. McKie, Jr. as city engineer. The new board, consisting of Mrs. T. A. Miller, Mrs. W. T. Shell, Sr., Mrs. P. H. Loggins, Miss Blanche McKie, Ed M. Polk, G. C. Elliott, Clyde Stuart, and Tom L. Tyson. The commission approved the appointments, which are for two years.

Street and Sanitary Commission—P. Travis Fullwood, city engineer, authorized to install 16 new street lights, meeting a long-delayed need caused by critical shortages. Fullwood said the Texas Power and Light Co. could furnish brackets now for some of the lights, and he was authorized to allocate them. He announced the lights would be installed at:

South Thirtieth and railroad tracks, between Ninth and Tenth avenue; West Tenth avenue and Twenty-Fourth street; 725 West Tenth avenue; Eighth avenue and Benton street; 911 South Eighteenth street; 600 East Park avenue; 710 East Thomas avenue; 725 West Eighth avenue at Benton street; Park avenue and Fifth street; Fifteenth street and Ninth avenue; Twenty-Sixth street and West Collin; 701 West Seventh avenue; 714 South Seventh street and East Twelfth avenue; South fourteenth street and railroad; West Collin street and Thirty-Second street; West Third avenue and Twenty-Third and One-hundred street; East Collin and One-hundred street.

Special Session.
To push its part of paper work on Highway 31 from Thirty-Fifth street to the west city limits, covering construction and maintenance, the commissioners passed on first reading a resolution covering entering into contract with the State of Texas, and Mayor Calhoun called a special session next Tuesday for a final reading.

The municipal airport came to the fore again as the War Administration $22,250 by April 11 for a hangar at the field. The commission transferred $25,000 from the water fund to the general fund, $50,000 of which was to meet current bills, and the remainder to apply on the hangar.

Sound Investment.
Mayor Calhoun, in discussing the airport deal, told the incoming mayor that in his opinion the "city has made a very sound investment." He stressed terms of the lease with J. N. Edens, Jr., whereby at the end of 10 years, when the lease terminates, the city will remove all of the buildings, and that the lease does not call for restoration of property. He cited revenues from the airport cluster of buildings to point out that this city is getting a good return on money expended.

In connection with the lease, however, there came another stumbling block in a proposed government contract covering the hangar which was given the city. A clause prohibiting use of the building for manufacturing or industrial purposes was held not satisfactory to the officials, and

NEW AND MODERN HOSPITAL IS DISCUSSED AT MEETING COUNTY COMMISSIONERS; FAVOR ACTION

A go-ahead signal was given the Navarro county hospital board by the commissioners court Tuesday afternoon to find out the approximate cost of a modern and up-to-date hospital and to make a survey of funds that will be available for such a proposition.

Members of the court said they favored such a procedure after the various details were discussed.

Dr. G. H. Sanders of Kerens, member of the hospital board and president of the Navarro County Medical Society, reviewed the present facilities of the P. and S. Hospital and the need of a new institution.

Facilities Inadequate.
"We've about reached our row's end with present facilities," Dr. Sanders emphasized, and then pointed out the desirability from medical and other viewpoints of keeping adequate pace with developments. He said that for some time facilities for negro patients had been inadequate, and those with money were forced to go to other towns for accommodations. The same conditions are developing for the white patients as the accommodations are not adequate and the physician said one they seek a rewording of the provision.

Jerry C. Roe, on behalf of Navarro Junior college, asked and received passage of a resolution insuring the college that should for any reason the city give up its lease on the airport, the college can assume its part and carry on.

The commission also:
1. Approved closing of an alley between blocks 361-362 on petition of abutting property owners.
W. J. McKie Trust (by Blanche McKie), George E. Edmonds and Mrs. R. B. Taylor.

2. Amended a contract covering rental of the Veterans Housing Unit at the airport, whereby the city gets $16 ground rent per year per unit.
3. Gave a quit claim deed on request of Judge R. R. Owen to the A. W. McQuiston heirs on West Fourth avenue property.

4. Authorized purchase of a second-hand swing and trapeze for the city park from Mrs. J. W. Edens, Jr., for $20.
5. Approved payment of $10,782.86 in current bills, and received departmental reports for the month.

Expenditures.
Expenditures were prorated and included: Administrative department, $1,131.81; sanitary department, $1,033.30; fire department, $130.65; street light department, $219.91; street department, $1,074.80; police department, $300.96; department, $53.86; cemetery department, $259.50; airport fund, $543.34; white federal housing, $1.98; colored federal housing, $3.27; water department, $5,319.91.

Revenues were:
Tax office, $3,736.56; colored housing, $35; white housing, $704.36; airport, $883.12; city engineer, $594.09; sexton, $1,330.75; water department, $1,439.27; sanitary department, $352; police department, $589; city recorder, $2,292.50 (this includes $585 in fines reported by chief of police, plus $1,617.50 in parking meter receipts).

of his patients recently was seventh in line for admission.
Navarro county could well use a 100 bed hospital for whites with 50 beds for negroes, Dr. Sanders said.

Dr. Sanders referred to four young physicians moving into Navarro county in recent years. He said that everyone was proud of the progressive private hospitals in Corsicana, but even with those hospitals, the accommodations are far short.

New Hospital Needed.
Dr. J. Wilson David of the Navarro Clinic, a private institution, urged keeping up with the times with a modern new hospital, after pointing out that the present county plant is obsolete. He urged that any new hospital be devoted, with plenty of space devoted to laboratory. He suggested that the county "start from scratch," employ a hospital architect to prepare what was wanted.

Dr. David asserted that while he was connected with a private clinic, a new county hospital would not be competition to the private institutions, stating that he had always practiced at the P. and S., and would continue to practice in the county hospital, the present one or a new one. He said he was wholeheartedly in favor of a new hospital for Navarro county, and that what was good for the county was good for everyone.

Finances Discussed.
Dr. Sanders said it was possible to raise a considerable sum from citizens and organizations, but personally he was against federal appropriations, since requirements often prove burdensome, and cited instances where he had been encountered because of federal regulations.

Will Thompson, representative from the directorate of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce, said that a large amount of money could be raised in Corsicana for a hospital. He said it had been his observation that towns with good hospitals are the ones that grow, and recited the many new and enlarged industries in Corsicana.

Judge L. L. Powell said that it was his opinion that it may become necessary to call for a bond issue, and suggested that a maintenance tax be provided.

Mrs. F. E. McPherson is convalescing satisfactorily at P. and S. Hospital following a recent illness.

The new officials will take office April 15, the same day that P. Travis Fullwood, one of the commissioners whose term is expiring, and Oscar S. Burns slash a special election to ascertain which will fill the unexpired term of W. E. McKinney, resigned.

COAL

should have done ever since the safety code became effective. He's starting to enforce his own code—but after 111 men died at Centralia.

"May God Forgive Him."

"Now on this particular day of our Lord, Mr. Krug found 518 mines not safe."

"May God in heaven forgive him for not finding those mines before and not closing them down before those men died."

Lewis then demanded: What should the United Mine Workers do now? He continued:

"If we must grind up human flesh and bones in the industrial machine that we call modern America then before God I assert that those who consume the coal and are made comfortable by it owe protection to those men first, and owe security to their widows and children."

"I say it. I voice it. I proclaim it. And I care not who in heaven or hell opposes it."

At one point, Lewis accused Krug of "lying" and demanded "that he be removed from his high office."

Recalling the work agreement which he signed last year with Krug, he said:

"We knew that the coal operators wouldn't keep the mines safe. x x That's the reason why we asked Krug to do it."

"He promised me, didn't he? or did he? Why, he signed it with me at the White House under the Klieg lights and the miners believed him. They didn't know he was lying. They know now that he was lying and they are joining me in demanding that he be removed from his high office."

Lewis called Krug:

"This modern Hercules with the Number 12 shoe and the size five hat."

Scornfully, Lewis drawled that his "Hercules" had "reduced mine fatalities from 96 a month to 80 a month and then rested from his labors."

Krug's announcement came as Lewis appeared before a house labor sub-committee to renew his charge that the Centralia miners died "because of criminal negligence of J. A. Krug."

Recalling that he had made the statement originally before a senate hearing last week, Lewis told the committee:

"Killed By Inaction."

"I have not said that J. A. Krug by an affirmative action killed these men. I say that by his inaction he has permitted them to die."

"He withheld from them succor that it was in his power to give x x x He stands at the top with nothing to stop him from making the coal mines safe, except his lack of desire to do so."

But asked by Rep. Kearns (R-Pa) whether private owners carried out safety measures better than the government, Lewis replied: "No. Worse."

The UMW chief added quickly "That doesn't excuse the government for not enforcing its own contract terms."

Safety Code Cited.

This was reference to a mine safety code provision in the UMW contract with the government.

Frequently emphasizing his remarks by banging his fist on a table, Lewis called the mines "death traps" and declared that "every man who goes to work in a coal mine will be statistically killed or injured every six years."

Krug said that a review of inspection reports did not indicate unduly hazardous conditions in 2-013 mines. But, he directed an immediate re-examination of safety conditions and practices along with consideration of any federal or state inspection reports.

Navy Captain N. H. Collinson, coal mines administrator, called on Lewis to submit the names of any other mines "which the union considers so hazardous as to require closing."

Former Plan Inadequate.

Collinson said that the three steps now provided for removing men from unsafe mines proved inadequate March 26 in the Centralia disaster in which 111 miners lost their lives.

These steps provide that (1) the local union safety committee may require the withdrawal of miners from unsafe mine areas; (2) if imminent danger exists the federal inspector may require withdrawal of the miners; and (3) the federal inspector reports serious danger by telephone so the coal mines administrator can move immediately to withdraw miners.

Krug directed Collinson and Dr. R. R. Savers, director of the Bureau of Mines "to proceed with the utmost speed to check safety conditions in the mines where the mine safety committee and the management can not agree and permit prompt reopening of those mines under safe working conditions."

Reopening Possible.

In order to reopen the 518 mines ruled hazardous, a safety certificate will be required from the Union safety committee and the mines manager, Krug said. If agreement cannot be reached on the safety certificate, a federal inspector will be sent as soon as possible to go through the mine again and recommend when it can be opened.

The 518 mines which will remain closed are scattered throughout the nation. The interior department estimates the daily output of bituminous coal at 350,000 tons of bituminous coal.

Lewis rattled off statistics on what he termed the "terrible record" of mine accidents in recent years and asked:

"Rebellion in Prayers."

"Is it any wonder the men don't want to go to work in coal mines and are calling on every agency of government for protection? x x Is it any wonder there is a rebellion shown in memorial services and prayers to high heaven going up in every mining community?"

Lewis spoke before a capacity throng in the caucus room of the old house office building. He came before the subcommittee to testify primarily regarding the Centralia disaster and the mourning period which he ordered.

"Casualties Exceed War."

The subcommittee gave him an invitation to say anything he pleased.

In the first 12 months of the recent war, Lewis said, "casualties in the mines exceeded those in the armed forces."

Yet, he said, states will not enforce safety precautions and it is impossible to induce the federal government "to carry out its own promises and contracts to enforce its own safety rules."

Recently before a senate committee, Lewis told the house group, "x x x I said these men at Centralia died because of the criminal negligence of J. A. Krug. I reiterate that statement now."

Lewis called the mines "death traps" and said there is a "calculated disregard of the public" for the condition of mine workers.

No One To Take Place.

He said that the 111 men who died at Centralia produced 160,000 tons of coal annually and the production is lost because there will be nobody to take their place.

"I don't," Lewis thundered, "that any one within the sound of my voice can tell me where one man can be found to go to Centralia and mine coal."

Now Krug, opened with Sub-committee Chairman Max Schwab (R-Mo) declaring the members "want to hear any and all constructive suggestions which you have to offer that will contribute to the welfare and the safety of the miners."

LEGISLATURE

Already passed by the senate, the measure now goes to the governor.

It is the second piece of labor legislation adopted by the legislature this session.

By Sen. Ben Ramsey of San Augustine, the bill establishes a national policy of continuous service of public utilities—water, gas and light—is essential to the life, health and safety of the public.

Some Picketing Permitted.

Picketing of such utilities is permitted so long as it does not prevent or threaten to prevent continuous service.

The bill makes it a felony for any person to willfully damage or destroy equipment so as to interfere with service, and fixes a penalty of two to five years imprisonment in the penitentiary.

Rep. C. C. Cain of Sherman sought to amend the bill to include telephone companies, but the house killed his motion 112 to 7.

"For Public Interest."

Rep. C. C. Cain of Sherman, author of a companion house bill, described Ramsey's measure as "a bill we can truly characterize as being for the public interest."

State senators departed from the capitol today for Easter vacations, most of them satisfied they had done a full measure of work in the week's three-day session, but the house of representatives stayed on the job.

With bills passed by both house and senate to establish a minimum pay schedule of $2,000 per year for school teachers through the increase of per capita school apportionments to $55, legislators turned to committee action on other bills.

The house elections committee sent to subcommittee a bill which would in effect ban the Communist party from Texas.

Rep. James Spencer of Athens explained that his measure would prohibit the name of anyone advocating the overthrow of the state or federal government from appearing on official ballots in Texas.

Communists Not Mentioned.

The Communist party is not mentioned by name in the bill, but it is necessary to validate another of his measures which would make it criminal libel to call anyone a Communist or Fascist.

For the second day in a row, charges were heard that the state is tearing down the principle of local self-government. The accusation was made during hearings by the committee on municipal and private corporations of a bill to establish minimum wage schedules for firemen and policemen.

R. E. Rouser, Fort Worth city attorney, declared the bill would create a tax burden in cities of Texas without consideration of where the needed money was coming from. A similar opinion was voiced during house debate prior day on establishment of a civil service system for policemen and firemen.

Wage Scales Set.

The bill already passed by the senate, was reported favorably to the house by unanimous voice vote.

Pay schedules would be $150 per month in cities of 10-40,000; $180, cities of 40-100,000; $190, cities of 100-175,000; and $200, cities of 175-400,000.

A $5 per month increase for each five years of service up to 25 years would be authorized in cities of 10,000 to 40,000 and a $10 increase on the same basis in cities from 40,000 to 400,000.

The house appropriations committee favorably reported a senate bill granting $400,000 a year for the education of crippled and otherwise handicapped children.

Appropriations Favored.

Also approved were bills appropriating $900 for monument state park and $15,000 for a horticultural laboratory at the El Paso Agricultural Experiment Station, and allowing transfer of $40,000 annually in citrus inspection fees from the general revenue fund to the state department of agriculture.

The fees would be used for research and inspections relative to the citrus canker disease.

The off-delayed bill for the creation of a state board of agriculture and abolition of the elective state office of commissioner of agriculture met another delay. Final consideration was ordered next Wednesday night, with a subcommittee of three ordered to revise the bill.

Delay resulted when the committee on agriculture met ahead of the time which had been posted for public hearing.

Committee members indicated it would be unfair to take action on the bill without having heard all witnesses for and against the measure.

Flood Control Planned.

A bill to remit some $130,000 per year for next ten years for flood control improvements to Bexar, Wilson, Karnes and Grall counties was approved for passage by the senate committee on state affairs.

The committee also favorably reported a bill authorizing the University of Texas School of Medicine State Hospital for Crippled and Deformed Children at John Sealy Hospital at Galveston to collect from the state "reasonable fees and charges" for professional services in the care of patients from state institutions.

Other Bills Approved.

Other approved bills would authorize commissioners of drainage districts to join with any other person, corporation, association, governmental agency or political subdivision in constructing and maintaining drainage improvements.

Authorize the sale of the R. R. State Prison Farm, with preference accorded World War II veterans.

Killed by the senate committee on insurance was a bill to allow insurance companies to set their own insurance rates subject to approval of the State Board of Insurance Commissioners.

BIG FOUR

Continued from first page. Secretary Ernest Bevin and French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault that "present demands to increase the reparations agreed upon at Potsdam cannot be considered by the United States."

New Proposal Made.

This was a restatement of his qualified opposition to Molotov's demand for $10,000,000,000 over 20 years.

Marshall's new proposal, which previously was taken up briefly in a secret session last Tuesday, is based, he said, on the assumption that the German level of industry is to be raised and that plans now marked for reparations export can be used to boost the German economy.

The heart of the Marshall formula was that the nations which would have received the plants should agree instead to receive an equivalent value in German reparations.

Plants Big Issue.

"It must be recognized that the further increase in the level of industry will reduce the number of plants available for removal in reparations accounts," Marshall's paper said.

If the proposals for reparations from current output are to be considered, these proposals must, in our view, be limited to compensation from the plants which are destined for removal but which are no longer available by reason of an increase in the level of industry to aid the European economy.

If reparations from current output is conceived in this way, the United States delegation is willing, without commitment, to have its experts study this question."

Earlier, Gen. Lucius D. Clay, principal advisor to Marshall in Germany, left by plane for Berlin in a move interpreted as indicating the United States delegation saw little prospect of settling any German issues at the current conference.

There was no indication that the Marshall formula would be at all satisfactory to Russia. It was a question whether it might provide a basis for further negotiations to break the reparations deadlock, which was barring progress of all major issues.

Members of the American delegation, however, said the proposal represented about the extreme limit to which Marshall is willing to go in order to meet Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov on this vital issue.

The Russians have asked 0-000,000,000 in reparations from Germany over a 20-year period, some of it from current production, and the stand of the western powers against this demand, coupled with Molotov's refusal to retreat from it, blocked all efforts to reach a settlement of any basic German issues.

Virginia, West Virginia, Delaware, Maryland and Pennsylvania leaders were on the list to meet with cabinet and other officials today. April 10, the Democratic chiefs from Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Vermont will come to town for similar conferences.

Wallace, who has classed himself with the self-described Democratic "liberals," apparently will get as warm a welcome as any other party member when he arrives to hear President Truman address the Jefferson Day Dinner Saturday night.

TEACHERS PAY

will not bring all salaries to the proposed $2,000 minimum.

What are the provisions of the two bills?
Two Bills Explained
1. Calls for payment to all schools a maximum of $55 for each school child, as determined by the state approved school census each year. This is $14 more than the per capita apportionment this year, including a bonus from surplus school money.

2. Provides that the comptroller must transfer to the available school fund from the clearance fund whatever amount might be needed to insure the $55 per capita fund if sources of revenue for the available school fund are not sufficient.

The clearance fund is a special fund originally set up to take care of public welfare, and teachers retirement payments.

3. Gives authority of payment from the clearance fund to public welfare and teachers retirement. (This was a senate amendment to the Blankenship bill).

4. Establishes a minimum salary of $2,000 per year for teachers holding a bachelor's degree, with increases for additional college training, teaching experience and efficiency.

5. Provides that it is enough money from all sources is not available, then the highest salaries shall be paid on the revenue available.

Higher Pay Provided
Sen. G. C. Morris of Greenville secured a senate amendment providing that additional pay based on college training and experience shall be paid on a schedule "not less than that provided in the state equalization law."

He said the amendment merely seeks to insure more pay for additional training and experience.

Senate adoption of both bills was by unanimous vote.

Sen. James Taylor of Kerens, author of a bill which would seek to raise teachers' salaries to a $2,000 minimum through payment of money to schools on a "cost" basis, voted for the per capita bill after warning his colleagues:

"The people who want this legislation are going to be the worst disappointed people in the state. It will help the rich districts and hurt the poor districts."

This is the argument which has been most used by opponents of the per capita plan.

Poor Districts Cited
They say that a $55 apportionment is more than many schools need to set up a $2,000 minimum pay schedule, while $55 per student will not be enough to insure $2,000 in a number of the poorer school districts.

One other provision of the salary bill has been subject to frequent attack. It requires the presentation of evidence to the committee on affiliation and accreditation that the provisions of the act as to minimum salaries and increments are being "faithfully complied with, or that the salary schedule actually being paid is approved by the state superintendent, the board of education."

Such evidence must be presented before any school of any district is affiliated or accredited or continued on the list of affiliated or accredited schools.

Opponents contend that many schools may be unable to set up a schedule which meet the approval of the state superintendent, and board of education, and would therefore lose their affiliation or accreditation.

Passage of the Blankenship bill was contrary to the governor's stand. Gov. Beauford Jester has indicated he favors raising teachers pay through an equalization bill such as Taylor's.

The committee voted to hold its first meeting in Austin Tuesday night and directed eight students to appear at that time. Summoned before the committee were William J. McCormick of Dallas, senior cadet class president, who was demoted from captain to private and ordered out of the corps by a college military board, Cadet Colonel E. Brandt of Houston, in whom the seniors voted "no confidence," and six officers of the Veterans Students Association of the college.

Regiment Broken Up
Before the Easter recess began Col. Guy S. Meloy, corps commander, ordered the first composite regiment broken up and its units assigned to three remaining regiments.

He issued the order after a military board ordered the regiment's commanding officer, Cadet J. D. Demolles of Texarkana, out of the corps.

The military boards which have been hearing charges of disobedience, insubordination and disregard for authority against 140 senior officers, will resume its hearings on Monday. In three days of hearings, five panels of college staff officers, working in relays, ordered 27 cadets out of the corps found innocent and handed out various punishments to 43 others. Fifty-eight more members of the class are to be heard.

"Bear By The Tail"
When the legislative inquiry committee met in Austin yesterday to organize, Sen. George Moffett of Chillicothe, author of the resolution which authorized the investigation and a member of the committee, warned members that "You have a much bigger bear by the tail than you think."

He said the trouble at A. and M. was deep-seated, of three or four years duration, and that the recent student mass meeting was only a "surface pimple" of a serious inner cancer.

Grocer Is Shot At Wheel Of Speeding
Car—Two Killed

SAN ANGELO, April 3.—(AP)—Ralph Rose, Sheffield grocer, died from a bullet wound as his automobile sped 80 miles an hour through the night as the driverless car overturned. Mrs. Rose was killed, Sheriff Charlie Baker of Pecos county said today. Their six-year old son escaped without injury.

Baker told the San Angelo Standard-Times by telephone that the Roses, formerly of San Angelo, had been having domestic difficulties in recent years and that they had quarreled on the outskirts of Sheffield before entering the car to go toward Ozona.

Baker said Rose had gotten the car up to about 75 or 80 miles an hour at the time of the shooting and accident which occurred about 10 o'clock this morning.

Justice of the Peace P. A. Campbell said at Sheffield his investigation had not been completed and that he had not yet returned an inquest verdict.

Two other defendants, Mosé Horowitz and Massoud Euton, were acquitted and were released immediately.

No Date Set
Hoess is permitted to ask President Boleslaw Bierut for clemency, but even should he do so this seemed certain to be denied. No date was set for the execution.

In the trial, the prosecution accused Hoess of supervising the gassing and cremation of some 3,000,000 Jews and 1,000,000 other men, women and children from a dozen countries—including Poland, Russia, Hungary, France, Belgium, The Netherlands and Czechoslovakia—at the camp in southwestern Poland 32 miles west of Krakow. Admits 2,500,000 Victims

Hoess, commandant at Oswiecim from mid-1941 to the end of 1943, questioned this figure. He said he could count only 2,500,000 victims. He took responsibility for carrying out the exterminations, but blamed superiors for institution of the policy.

Hoess, who has a wife and five children in Germany, told the tribunal once that he would have thrown them all into the Oswiecim furnaces had he been ordered to do so. The British, who questioned Mrs. Hoess at Hamburg in December, 1945, said they found her house full of clothes and jewelry taken from executed Jews.
